January 31st, 1930.

Mr. Robert Underwood Johnson,
26 East 55th Street,
New York.

My dear Mr. Johnson:

While quick to take advantage of the splendid facilities for relief that the Red Cross offers, the public often seem equally forgetful of the nobility of its founder, Clara Barton.

Believing that her memory and splendid unselfishness should be perpetually before the public, particularly before the youth of our country as a lasting inspiration for sacrifice for others, I am writing you to urge that a bust of this noble woman be placed in the Hall of Fame, as one of our most famous.

Believing that your influence in this connection is powerful I trust that her eligibility will impress you to approve.

Very truly yours,

W. F. Wakeman

Wilbur F. Wakeman.
